

HUNTER KALLAY

Phone: (814) 860-1084
Email: hkallay@vols.utk.edu

Knoxville, TN

EDUCATION

Knoxville, TN: August 2023—Current

PHD University of Tennessee, Philosophy
Faculty Advisor: Dr. Adam Cureton
CIRTL Associate Level of Certification

Houston, TX: January 2021—December 2022

MA Houston Baptist University, Philosophical Apologetics
Thesis: “Saving Moral Knowledge”
Research Advisor: Dr. David Baggett

Erie, PA: August 2017—December 2020

BS Gannon University, Business Administration
Graduated summa cum laude
Major: Management
Minor: Marketing

PUBLICATIONS

Hunter Kallay and Kristina Gehrman. “AI is a Know-It-All Know-Nothing.”
VentureBeat (2024).

Kallay, Hunter. “Moral Hide-and-Seek: Addressing Divine Moral Hiddenness
Concerns.” Moralapologetics.com (2024)

Kallay, Hunter. “The Paradox of Moral Tolerance: Exposing Normative Relativism’s Blind Spot.” Moralapologetics.com (2023).

Kallay, Hunter. “Saving Moral Knowledge: A Debunking Argument and Theistic
Alternative.” Moralapologetics.com (2023).

Kallay, Hunter. “Can you even have science without God?” American Thinker (2022).

Kallay, Hunter. “Thinking About Apologetics.” The Expository Times (2022).

Kallay, Hunter. “No-Strings-Attached: The Lies of Hookup Culture and God’s Good Design.” The Rebelution (2021).

PRESENTATIONS

Upcoming: Tennessee Philosophical Association Conference: “Categorical Programming: How Kant Might Solve Ethical Bias and Prevent AI-Driven Atrocities” (November 1-2, 2024: Vanderbilt University).

The Society for Ethics Across the Curriculum 2024 Conference: “Categorical Programming: How Kant Might Solve Ethical Bias and Prevent AI-Driven Atrocities” (October 3-5th, 2024: Clemson University). Additionally served as a session chair.

Genealogies and Belief Graduate Workshop: “A ‘Crucial’ Moral Debunking Argument” (September 19th, 2024: University of California, Irvine).

Rocky Mountain Ethics Congress: “A ‘Crucial’ Moral Debunking Argument” (August 8-11th, 2024: University of Colorado). Also presented comments on “An Institutional Account of Trustworthy Artificial Intelligence”

University of Tennessee AI Workshop: “Categorically Safeguarding Foundational AI Models” (May 1st, 2024: University of Tennessee). Selected for Best Poster Award at the workshop.

Southeast Graduate Philosophy Conference: “A ‘Crucial’ Moral Debunking Argument” (April 13-14th, 2024: University of Florida). Accepted.

Conference of the Long Island Philosophical Society: “A ‘Crucial’ Moral Debunking Argument” (April 13th, 2024: Molloy University).

University of Tennessee Graduate Student Association Conference on Emerging Technologies and Social Ethics: “Categorical Programming: How Kant might solve ethical bias and prevent AI-driven atrocities” (April 6-7th, 2024: University of Tennessee).

Eastern Regional Meeting of the Society of Christian Philosophers: “A ‘Crucial’ Moral Debunking Argument” (March 7-9th, 2024: Samford University). Additionally served as a session chair.

Tennessee Philosophical Association Conference: “The Paradox of Moral Tolerance: Exposing Normative Relativism’s Blind Spot” (October 21st, 2023: Vanderbilt University).

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Knoxville, TN: August 2024—Current

Adjunct Professor of Philosophy
Pellissippi State Community College

- PHIL 2200: Introduction to World Religions

Knoxville, TN: August 2023—Current

Graduate Teaching Assistant
University of Tennessee

- PHIL 246: Ethics of AI (FA24)
 - Helped design the course.
- PHIL 244: Professional Responsibility (FA24)
- STEM Pre-College Program for the Governor’s School (SU24)
- PHIL 101: Introduction to Philosophy for Dr. Kristina Gehrman (SP24)
- PHIL101: Introduction to Philosophy for Dr. Sam von Mizner (FA23)

April 2023—Current

Lead Writer
FryAI Email Newsletter

- Wrote a long-form article that reached #1 on Hacker News (2023).
- Create all newsletter content for weekday newsletters, which explore the latest developments in artificial intelligence (AI).
 - I have written over 330 newsletters (and counting).
- Write weekly “Sunday Deep Dive” long-form articles which delve into groundbreaking AI innovations and developers.
 - I have written over 50 long-form articles (and counting).
- Participate in video interviews with over 25+ AI developers.
- Helped design and facilitate the development of an AI-powered mobile app (Notenest) on the Apple App Store.

Houston, TX: August 2021—June 2023

Graduate Teaching Assistant
Houston Baptist University, Jerry Walls

- PHIL101: Introduction to Philosophy for Dr. Jerry Walls (5 total courses)

HONORS & AWARDS

Best Poster Award at the SMART AI Workshop Graduate Student Poster Contest

Achieved the #1 spot on Hacker News (2023)

Winner of the 2023 Graduate Ethics Writing Contest

The Center for the Foundations of Ethics, Academic Conference on the Moral Argument for God

Master of Arts in Apologetics Merit Scholarship (all semesters)

Houston Baptist University

summa cum laude

Gannon University

Academic Excellence Award (all semesters)
Gannon University

Dean's List Honors (all semesters)
Gannon University

Valedictorian
Erie First Christian Academy

RELEVANT COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

Philosophy Department Student Representative
Graduate Student Senate, University of Tennessee
Additionally serve on the Graduate Committee for Equity and Diversity

August 2024—Current

Conference Committee Member
Philosophy Graduate Student Association, University of Tennessee

August 2024—Current

2024 National Ethics Bowl Judge and Moderator, Regional Competition

February 2024

Malik Academic Fellow
Ratio Christi

August 2023—Current

Senior Research Fellow
Center for the Foundations of Ethics

August 2021—Current