Born 1962. Married, 1990, to Kathy J. Saunders. Kathy has B.A. and B.S. degrees from Kansas State University, where she was Phi Beta Kappa. She has also a J.D. from Indiana University-Bloomington, and an Associate degree in Fire Science from Kansas City Community College. She passed the bar exam in both Indiana and Kansas and practiced municipal law in both. She is a certified fire fighter, fire instructor, EMT, and fire inspector. She has served as Attorney to the Bloomington, IN, City Council; a Management Analyst to the City of Lawrence, KS; a Major in the Lawrence, KS, Fire Department; and, the Fire Chief of the Bloomington, IN, Fire Department. She was the first female and Asian-American fire chief in the state of Indiana. She is currently the Fire Marshal of Knox County, TN (population 500k). Kathy has served on several boards and commissions in both the public and private sectors. She served as President of the Board for the Knoxville Montessori School from 2003-2010. We have one daughter, Kiyoko Cecelia, born 1996, who is a poet, and one son, Kame Benjamin, born 2001, who is a musician. (Kathy is Okinawan-American, hence the Japanese first names.) My hobbies and interests currently include playing guitar, attending concerts and music festivals, travel, hiking, cooking, politics, and reading in humanities and social sciences.
